CONFIRMATION IS ADMINISTERED AT CATHOLIC CHURCH

Ceremony Performed by Bishop MacDonald of Victoria

On Wednesday morning, August 19, St. Theresa's Catholic Church, Irma, was the scene of a very imposing ceremony, when 16 of the children of the Irma-Fabyan parish received the Sacrament of Confirmation at the hands of Bishop J. A. MacDonald, of Victoria, B.C.

Before the administration of Confirmation, High Mass was sung by Rev. Fr. McGrane, P.P., of Irma, in the presence of His Excellency, and Rev. Fathers Doyle, Elkin and Holland, who were also in the sanctuary to assist in the ceremonies. At the conclusion of the Mass, the bishop then instructed and examined the children who were about to be confirmed, in the catechism, and also delivered a very inspiring sermon to the congregation on their duties and obligations as Christians and citizens. His Excellency also spoke briefly in French. The Sacrament of Confirmation was then administered to the eight boys and girls who were as follows: Harvey Marchand; Clifford Marchand; Alfred Norman Meyer; Lloyd Cartier; Cyril John Crowley; Jean-Paul LaPalme; Gerald Leo Wease and John Toth. Helen Meyer; Margaret Meyer; Mary Amy Wease; Florence Marchand; Alice Dalton; Helen Dalton; Marie Therese LaPalme and Kathleen Riddell. The Godparents acting during the ceremonies were, for the boys, Mr. Albert LaPalme of Fabyan, and for the girls, Mrs. F. Wease of Irma.

It was a very impressive sight as the children were confirmed, especially as all the girls were dressed in white and wore wreaths and veils.

After the ceremonies Fr. McGrane welcomed the Bishop of Victoria, who this year is acting on behalf of Archbishop O'Leary for the administration of Confirmation in the Archdiocese, speaking briefly in French and English.

After the ceremonies at the church a public banquet in honor of His Excellency was held in Hedley's Hall.

The children who were confirmed were given a place of honor in the centre of the hall and at the conclusion of the repeat Rev. Fr. McGrane assumed the task of chairman and called upon several speakers chosen for the occasion. Mayor Foxwell spoke on behalf of the town and Reeve Smallwood on behalf of the Municipality of Battle River. Representing the French-speaking parishioners, M. Henri LaPalme of Fabyan delivered a short address, and we also had the pleasure of a few words from Rev. Fr. Doyle, P.P., of Wainwright. His Excellency, Bishop MacDonald then replied and delivered a truly magnificent oration.

The Confirmation ceremonies and the gathering afterwards were among the most successful events ever attempted in this parish and congratulations are due the women who undertook the catering and to all who aided them in any way, either by the donation of food or assistance in the hall. The members of the Fabyan choir are also to be thanked for their kindness in coming to Irma to render the sacred music during the singing of High Mass.

DOMINION TO AID 200,000 IN DRY AREA

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Canada is dealing with the drought problem in the prairies along a two-fold plan. On the one hand the Dominion government will join the provinces in providing emergency relief to those in need in the burnt-out districts. The relief will affect upwards of 200,000 persons, it is estimated.

Along other lines it is seeking, also with the co-operation of the provinces affected, to permanently rehabilitate the districts which periodically suffer from the lack of rain causing ruined crops and dangerous soil drifting. The permanent works now are being rushed to help the emergency by giving employment.

The Search For Economic Safety

One frequently hears it said nowadays that the subject of economics should find a place, and an important place, on the curriculum of the public and high schools.

The proposal has arisen, no doubt, out of the depression from which the countries of the world have been suffering and their populations groping, more or less in the dark, in the hope of finding a way out of the financial and economic difficulties which are besetting them and from which apparently a slow, but it is to be hoped a sure, emergence is in progress.

It is urged that matters pertaining to currency and credit are complicated and that the average person arrives at the so-called age of maturity and discretion with very little knowledge to guide him on topics which, after all, are of great importance to everyone. Even the fundamental principles are obscure to the average man, and this applies not only to the farmer on the land and the merchant in the country store, but to the average business man in the larger centres.

It is pointed out that after all it is the average elector who must decide what course his country, his province or his community must take through what, to the great majority, is an uncharted sea, at any rate uncharted and unknown so far as they are concerned. It is the average elector who goes to the polls and gives direction, through his vote, to his representative who naturally feels that it is incumbent to carry out the mandate thus conferred upon him.

And in recent years, as a result of general and local conditions, these mandates have largely taken the form of instruction as to what policies should be pursued in regard to questions respecting the use of currency and credit and the forms they should take. These have lately become important issues in elections, both in restricted community areas as well as in the wider provincial and national fields, not only in this country but in the majority of countries in the civilized world.

This being the case, it is highly important that the electorate should be well posted on at least the fundamental principles underlying the various economic theories presented for their approval or rejection and as to whether or not they are feasible. When new experiments in financing are proposed the electors should have some knowledge as to their feasibility or otherwise and some history, if such is available, to guide them as to the results of similar experiments in the past and elsewhere.

Unfortunately this is not always the case. One hears a great deal of discussion on economic topics wherever groups are gathered together. Some of the contributions to these discussions are based on sound facts and known principles and some, on the contrary, are based on pure theorization and largely inspired only by a very natural desire to try something which may prove a panacea.

Equally unfortunately, however, there is always the risk of an uninformed electorate, or an electorate not well grounded in fundamentals, rushing into some experiment which might prove to be disastrous in its effects and result in stepping "out of the frying pan into the fire."

These statements are not made with the intention of decrying experimentation in the economic field. On the contrary, the world and conditions in the world are changing almost daily. Progress must and will be made in this as in other spheres of life. In the field of medicine, in the field of science and in other departments of life, enormous progress has been made in recent years, and largely as a result of experimentation, but usually it will be found that this progress has resulted by moving forward step by step along the path of construction on accepted fundamental facts. In these fields results are usually only achieved by workers who know and understand basic principles.

Fortunately the public is awakening to a realization that if they are to guide the destinies of themselves and their fellows successfully in the economic sphere they must have a grounding of reliable information on which to base their conclusions and to apply as tests. This is demonstrated by the tremendous increase in the sale of books and pamphlets on these and kindred topics in the last few years and in the increased demand for such works at the public libraries.

The greatest immediate danger that exists in this widespread demand for information is the possibility of confusion on the part of readers who are bombarded on all hands with innumerable theories, but this danger may be avoided or at least partially offset, if the reader will search for definite proven facts, in the light of history and experimentation, and proceed from there to build up his conclusions as to what may be safe and what dangerous.

The proposal to make economics a more important subject of study for the youth of to-day in the schools is one that has considerable merit, but until a new generation is grounded in fundamentals and practical principles, the adults who are being called upon to determine policies for present day adoption must necessarily continue to seek guidance from available literature plus their own good common sense.

The Coronation Procession

Route As Arranged Will Be Longest On Record

Official announcement of the route to be taken by the king's coronation procession on May 12, 1937, showed the drives to and from Westminster Abbey would be the longest on record, covering nearly twice the distance of the coronation route taken by the late King George.

The route will traverse no street twice, thus giving the enormous crowds expected from home and overseas ample opportunity to see the pageantry.

The route from Buckingham palace to the west entrance of Westminster Abbey will be by way of the Mall, Trafalgar square, Whitehall, and Parliament street. The return journey will be via Victoria embankment, Northumberland avenue, Cockspur street, Pall Mall, St. James street, Piccadilly circus, Regent street, Oxford street, the Marble Arch and Hyde Park corner.

Must Obey Or Suffer

Small Wonder Russians Do Not Look Particularly Happy

Hon. W. D. Euler, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, has been looking at Germany and Russia. On a purely business mission, his observations are naturally confined to generalities. But he did comment on the fact that in Moscow, greatest of the Soviet's cities, the people did not look particularly happy. If this sounds like a trite remark, it nevertheless comes from a man who is well accustomed to sizing up crowds in a realistic way. There is value in this. It is a relief from the more familiar and more scientific analyses of Russian systems and developments.

Whatever their benefits and their ideals, the people of Russia to-day are forced to follow a mode of life and work set by a small dictatorial group at the head of the state. It is not for them to complain that it is not the way they would choose; they obey or they suffer.—Hamilton Spectator.

Inscription Is Brief

The briefest inscription which has ever appeared on a field marshal's baton is on that which the Duke of Connaught, as senior Field Marshal of the British Army, handed to his great-nephew, the King, at Buckingham Palace. It reads simply, "His Majesty King Edward VIII, field marshal, January 21, 1936." 2165

The Champion Loser

Man Who Lost Millions By Selling Stock Too Soon

Among the many romantic aspects of the colossal growth of the Ford Motor Company nothing is stranger in all the history of finance, perhaps, than the large fortune made by James Couzens, and the huge loss suffered by Alexander Y. Malcomson, who was Ford's principal backer. Senator Couzens made 29 million dollars; poor Malcomson cheated himself out of close to 300 millions. Instead of becoming one of the world's richest men, he sold his stock for a mere pittance.

The Ford Motor Company was incorporated on June 16, 1903. Fifty-one per cent. of the stock issue of $100,000 was split evenly between Henry Ford and Alexander Malcomson. Among the other stockholders were Couzens, at that time only a clerk in the coal business conducted by Malcomson, who subscribed $2,500 and the Dodge brothers, John F. and Horace E., who contracted to build the Fords in their machine shop and who each got a $5,000 interest in the Ford Company.

In 1906, Malcomson sold his $25,000 worth of stock to Ford for $175,000 and probably thought he was doing handsomely inasmuch as he had increased his original investment six times in three years. But wait—Couzens hung on until 1919, a year in which the company's profit was close to 70 million dollars. The Ford family bought Couzens' stock of $2,500 and paid him 29 million, 308 thousand dollars for it. He was the last minority stockholder. Had Malcomson not sold out till then, he would have drawn out just ten times as much as Couzens did, or approximately 300 million dollars. Malcomson thus must go down in financial history as the toughest loser on the books; as a man who stood to gain the largest profits on record but didn't have the patience or the wisdom to wait thirteen years longer.

Dream Highway Progressing

Proposed Road Between Alaska And South America Being Developed

The "dream highway"—a good road from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Buenos Aires, South America, 12,000 miles away—is being developed, but there still remains plenty of mileage to fill, of which the missing sections in the mooted British Columbia-Alaska road are a major part.

A tourist from Vancouver can now drive over well-paved roads as far as Mexico City, 3,600 miles, or little more than one-quarter of the mileage that will be available for him when the Pan-American highway is finally completed. The same highway, however, extends an additional 836 miles northward in British Columbia to Hazelton, B.C.

One of the first definite links to be completed will be from Mexico City to Panama, of which 165 miles to Tehuacan is already passable by motor.

Another difficulty in the making of the highway will be the construction of a road over a 400-mile stretch of jungle and mountain from Panama City to the Colombian border in South America.

South America has considerable stretches of excellent road, with occasional rough and rugged patches. In Peru the government laid down 2,000 miles of good road from the northern border of Chile. From there to Santiago in Chile the motorist can travel on another highway 1,577 miles.

From Santiago, a road leads eastward over the Andes mountains, a highway constructed under incredible difficulties and open only in summer. At Mendoza in the Argentine this road joins the Argentine section of the highway which carries on for 850 miles to the southern terminus of the "dream highway," Buenos Aires.

Stages A Surprise

Geysers In Yellowstone Park Betters Its Own Record

The longest and shortest intervals between eruptions of Old Faithful Geysers were recorded at Yellowstone Park, Wyoming, recently. The usually reliable geyser spouted once at 11:56 a.m. and then burst into action again at 12:26 p.m., a wait of only thirty minutes. Then followed an interval of 92 minutes, or until 1:58 p.m. Old Faithful seldom varies from 65-minute intervals between outbursts.

Predicts Long Drouth For U.S.

Weather Man Would Move 59,000 Families From Dry Areas

Migration of 59,000 families from the drouth-damaged farms of the great plains of the United States was recommended in a population survey of that area by Dr. C. W. Thornthwaite, former University of Oklahoma climatologist.

His study, published by the University of Pennsylvania, contended wind erosion had damaged 65 per cent. of the plains region; extending from the Canadian border into the Texas Panhandle.

A long-range government program for the return of millions of acres of wheat land to its native soil, he said, might be the only means of checking the devastating dust storms.

Observing long dry spells have been frequent in the history of the plains, Thornthwaite predicted "the present drouth might be prolonged for 20 or more years."

Evidence from tree rings, lake levels and other sources was cited in the survey to show a 40-year drouth began in 1825 and was interrupted by only occasional wet years.

But the weather expert estimated that a minimum of 12,610 families should move out of Montana, the state in which he reported the greatest "surplus population." He urged a migration of 12,200 families from Texas and 7,860 from North Dakota. Heavy removals also were suggested for South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming and Colorado.

"The ideal situation in the great plains," he said, "would be a practically complete return to a grazing economy where pasturing on the range is supplemented by the raising of feed and forage crops."

Newspaper Favors

Many People Who Are Expecting Something For Nothing

We have often reflected upon the slowness of people to thank editors for the favors which newspapers do for them. Individuals and organizations are constantly asking for publicity to assist them in promoting various kinds of worthy causes. Space is the only commodity aside from circulation which publishers have to sell, and this is a fact which too many seem to forget. Some are even critical of the favorable notices which we give them and their property to assist them in promoting various kinds of worthy causes. Fleet Street Writer Gave Fortune To Lifelong Friend

The estate of Arthur Anthony Baumann, London, one of the best known of Fleet street writers, was probated at $86,000 ($430,000). He left practically all of it to his secretary and lifelong friend, George Browning. Both were bachelors and lived together 46 years. Baumann suffered paralysis for 12 years and Browning taught him to use his left hand. Baumann was 80; Browning is over 70.

New Revolver Tested

A new revolver of tremendous power, which J. Edgar Hoover says might wreck an automobile engine with a single shot, is being tested by the United States bureau of investigation which he heads. The gun, 44 to 49 ounces, inflicts a large wound and the impact of a bullet from it was said to have a force of 802 pounds. The regular service type has an impact of only 350 pounds.

King Edward's Car Thirty-Seventh Made For British Royalty

The first royal car in the world—it is still in running order—was a 6-horse power one supplied to King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, in 1899, states the Overseas Daily Mail. From that year the Kings and Queens of England have owned thirty-six state cars, all of the same make. King Edward's new car is the thirty-seventh. The last big car used by King George was made specially for his Jubilee tours in London.

Trapped For Six Months

Soviet Soldiers Caught In Mountains By Great Blizzard

Three Soviet Robinson Crusoes, trapped in the blind, snowfilled mountain passes of Western Siberia without supplies, not only maintained themselves for six months, but also several escaped convicts, border jumpers and other criminals they captured, according to a drama-filled saga printed in the "Krasnaya Svezda," the official newspaper of the Red Army.

The three Red Army men left Novosibirsk Sept. 3 of last year for a mountain post carrying a month's supply of food and ammunition. A great blizzard swept the land two weeks later. When the men crept from their tough huts, every outgoing pass was obliterated. A border patrol sent to search for the men returned empty handed.

Again in March of this year, when the mountain snows were melting, a squad of soldiers set forth, this time believing they'd come upon the skeletons of their buddies. Approaching the camp, they saw a thin wreath of smoke in the air. Rifle signal was returned with rifle signal. The bearded Crusoes tumbled into the arms of their rescuers.

The marooned men had built themselves stout tough huts, lived on wild game, with which the region abounded, perfecting themselves in marksmanship so that no bullet was wasted. They had not had bread for six months.

Several lawbreakers, whom they'd picked up in the mountains, and who had lived freely with the Red guards, went back to civilization with them.

Football Fans Defy Fire

Firemen Had To Force Them From Grandstand In Australia

Three thousand football fans sat amid the smoke of an uncontrollable fire in a grandstand in Sydney, Australia, and engrossed in the game, they refused to move until forced to do so by firemen. A few minutes after they had left flames burst through the floor. Until the firemen acted the fans regarded the blaze as a joke, and paid closest attention to the game, which was continued despite the fact that clouds of smoke were blowing across the field.

"Opportunity knocks for every man." A woman gets a ring.

Miss Dorothy Drummond is visiting in Edmonton this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson made a trip to Edmonton last week.
Don't forget your Drug Store has a full line of school supplies.
Miss Lonelle Coffin has been engaged to teach in Alma Mater school.
Mr. Dick Yoeman arrived in Irma Monday evening for the threshing season.
Miss Vera Simmerman is visiting her grandfather and aunt in Wainwright.
W. Masson, M.L.A., is in Edmonton this week attending the fall session of the legislature.
You cannot afford to buy your school supplies from anyone but your drug store.
Misses Ethel and Margaret Tate have returned from Lacombe where they spent three weeks with relatives.
Dan Matheson, employed in construction work on Jasper highway, spent the week-end with his family here.
Mr. and Mrs. Reshaur, of Rivers, Man., are visiting their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Orton, for a few days.
Mr. and Mrs. Elder and family of Saskatoon stopped for a short visit with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Simmerman, last Monday.
Mrs. Gwyn left on Monday night's flyer to see her two sisters in Iowa, U.S.A., one of whom she received notice is in a critical condition.
The United church services will be held as usual next Sunday, August 30th, at the following points: Albert at 11 a.m., Alma Mater 3 p.m., Irma at 8 p.m. The pastor, Rev. E. F. Kemp, will conduct all the services.
Miss Ethel Radford, niece of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Parke, stopped off here last week to visit them, en route to her parents' home in Vancouver, B.C., from England where she has been in business for several years.
A large number of Irma and district residents took advantage of the dental clinic last Wednesday and brought their children in for examination and treatment. This clinic was arranged for by the Irma branch of the Women's Institute.
We are very sorry to report that Mrs. E. F. Kemp became seriously ill last Friday, August 21, and was taken to a hospital in Edmonton for treatment on Sunday afternoon. Irma friends wish her a speedy recovery. Mr. Kemp plans to take charge of all the services next Sunday as usual.
In the Family Herald this summer mention was made of a cat at Banff, Alberta, 22 years of age. This week Mrs. R. L. Shotts advised us that they did away with their pet cat recently which was over 19 years of age. Possibly this is a record age for the Irma district. Mr. and Mrs. Shotts obtained this cat from Mrs. Coulman the first year they lived on their farm.
For the first time in several years Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coffin had a family re-union recently. Their son, Sherburne, with his wife and daughter drove up from Delta; their other sons, Delbert and Keith, who are still living at home, were there, as also their daughter, Lonelle, lately arrived from Sexsmith, and two married daughters, Mrs. A. Hockett and Mrs. Dan Matheson, with their children. Such gatherings are memorable events in family history. All together Mr. and Mrs. Coffin had with them their six children and all their seven grandchildren.

Fashion Service

By JANE DEE

ARE you one of those smart-out-of-town women who is interested in the latest fashions of the day, who wants to be well dressed yet hasn't the time or opportunity to shop around?
Why not take advantage of this new Stylist Service created for you by EATON'S? All you need to do is write to me at Winnipeg and I will gladly help you solve your fashion problems.
Perhaps you are in doubt as to what the new colors, fabrics and fashion trends are for Fall. Maybe you are going to some special affair and would like advice regarding the correct frock for the occasion. If you have a new dress or coat and are not sure what type of accessories you should wear with it, just describe it in your letter and I will try to give you several helpful suggestions.
Remember that this Service is available only at EATON'S Winnipeg Mail Order. Also that it is not a Shopping Service. It is solely in an advisory capacity.
